A Message From Staff

With the Bank Holiday, this week has felt very short! We have been busy with Year 6 preparing for their SATs next week and with preparations for the coronation celebrations this weekend.

You may have noticed Innovate staff around at school reception this morning. They are on hand to help you register for the new meal ordering system. Our new online ordering system for school lunches will be going live shortly for week commencing 22nd May.

Lunches do not have to be paid for in advance as your account will be debited on the day that the lunch has been eaten, but they do need to be booked.

Please ensure that you have signed up to the new system to book your child's lunches in advance as we will not be able to take orders on the day. If you need any help with signing up, please contact the school office and we will be happy to help. Innovate will also be available to help and answer any questions on Tuesday 16th May from 3pm.

Don't forget our Moving Forwards together meeting on 17th May at 3.3pm. Everyone welcome!

Wishing you all a relaxing and restful Coronation Bank Holiday weekend.

SEND News from Mrs Wakeman

As part of a regular slot on the newsletter about courses and resources that you might find useful, this week I have attached a leaflet on a SENDIASS course that is run by one of our excellent Suffolk SEMH (Social, Emotional and Mental Health) advisers. You will be able to listen to the session online; it will provide lots of helpful advice about managing behaviour and the strategies that are suggested will be the same as those followed at school. You do not need to let us know as you can sign up online but do feel free to ask if you
